Mr. Quigley Clears Up the Gloom.
The Cincinnati Breakfast Table.

"I'll tell you how it is," said Quigley to a crowd who were complaining of being crowded into a corner, "you can make a fortune by going into bankruptcy. If your debts are only big enough to make it an object. The more you owe, the more you can't pay."

"No, I'll be smothered if I do," said the unfortunate friend. "I owe enough, the Lord knows, if I tell all you want, but how I am to pay even fifty cents on the dollar, and have anything left to commence over again, is one of the things I can't see into."

"But you don't want to pay up your debts, man. Well but you are a green un—that is too good. Pay! I'll say! What are you going to fail for?"

"Can't help it. Bang it all, what are you laughing about?"

"But you can't afford to fail in these hard times, unless you can make a snug thing out of it. You must plunge headlong into ruin with your eyes shut," said Quigley, adjusting his diamond pin.

"Master!"

"No! never do in the world. Have your wits about you and keep your head clear. Don't let the trouble worry you into fogging your brain with too much drink. Wouldn't do at all. Keep your eye peeled and watch for the main chance."

"Yes—yes; I see. But how?"

"You must appoint your own receiver, and be sure to select the worst nation-head you can find. Get a man that don't know enough to drive a cow, and too lazy to add up a column of figures, if he knows how. If you find an ignorant that can't read, so much the better. Make him believe there ain't hardly anything to divide, and you can buy him off cheap."

"So, that's the way it is? Go on, I'm learning fast."

"If the man you get is green enough and not too blamed awkward to stumble on the true state of things accidentally, you won't have a bit of trouble. Whack up with him right on the start, chuck his eyes oblique full of dust, keep your own counsel and make in the pile."

"But the creditors—what are they to do?"

"Them? Oh, they can hold the bag, and take what drops; but you must take mighty good care to hold the screen steady and see that nothing gets through. Play it fine, and you're heeled, old boy, mark me. I'm talking by the book, for I've been there myself, you know."

"And Quigley consulted his magnificent sten-winder and said it was about his time of day to refresh.—Cincinnati Breakfast Table.

An Evening Call.
Detroit Free Press.

"Gentlemen," said Brother Gardner, as he rose up and placed his hand on a copy of "The Great Gloom," "I was out to deliver de washin' de odder night, and I dropped over to see de Widder Johnson for a few minutes. I sat down on de front steps in de deep'n' twilight, an' while de skeeters sailed around 'tween de sleepy atmosphere, I axed de widder why it was dat de man who does de moss' brow' about hard times hez de leas' to lose by a panic; an' she showed de gold fillin' in her teel ez she sweetly replied:

"Miss Gardner, dar will be tater bugs jes' ez long ez dar an' taters."

"De an' clouds sailin' across de azure surface of de beautiful moon, an' 'axed de widder why de church preachers stood up in der pulpits an' wept over de heathens in China, but forgot to even heave a sigh ez de passed base ball, dog fights, jumpin' matches, an' de like, was dat de way home, an' de widder she shined up her brass ringe wid her apron an' replied:

"Miss Gardner, all butchers may be honest, but all butchers sales may not weigh sixteen ounces to de pound. It an powerful easy for de fault wid odder people's noses an' de like, to forget dat de ends of our own turn up."

"I sat dar in de decessin' darkness, feelin' a goneness for de want of a sweet turnip to eat, an' I axed de widder why de man who doan' mean to squar' up wid his groces an' jes' de chap who finds fault wid de size of a quart measure; an' she dodged a pinch-beetle an' replied:

"Miss Gardner, dis would an so con-stituted dat de dog which barks de loudest gits de moss' bones. Money an' powerful good, de man, but de nex' bes' ting to it an' a good pair o' lungs an' plenty of surface between de eye an' de chin!"

"Gentlemen, ez soon ez de ice goes outen de river, an' I axed de little ting to make, I ez gwine to dwell on sech facts ez de above an' digger up conclusions wid a soft pencil."

The Clothes Line.

Come now, what infernal barbarity is this—leaving the clothes-line out after dark! A great deal of funny comment has been made upon the custom by thoughtless people, but it is a most serious matter, and it is high time the tomfoolery was abolished. We are just as ready as anybody to see the funny side of anything, but we have ceased to see anything amusing in being unexpectedly sawed across the neck or rasped across the face by a clothes line. It is time there was a legislative enactment to hang clothes-lines sixty feet above the earth, or make leaving them out at night a state's prison offense. It is a most incomprehensible fact that a clothes-line is always hung across the garden-path. If the yard was ten miles square and a path two feet wide crept along close to the fence, and the woman had but five feet of line, she would manage to cover the path. Whether this is because she is perverse, or cannot help it, we do not know. We only know that it was an appalling evil. No home circle is safe where this custom prevails. It matters not how carefully a man is, it matters not how carefully he has been educated, it matters not how holy and noble are his aspirations—the moment a clothes-line catches him under the chin, especially if he has a pan of ashes in his arms, that moment he stinks with awful velocity to the level of the brute, and proceeds to act out the conditions thereof at once. In its proper place a clothes-line is a valuable companion, but across a path after dark is simply a brutalizing force.

BRIEFLETS.

—The Templars are coming.
—This is choose-day at Elkhorn.
—Now the candidates for county offices begin to loom up.

—The Janesville Guards are ordered to meet for drill to-morrow night instead of Thursday night.
—The balls and chains are anxiously waiting for some more ankles. The tramps should hurry up before the shackles get rusty.

—The corn crop at present appears rather extravagant for these times. It is said to be attired in silk and tassel.—Puck's Sun.

—Mrs. S. J. M. Putnam, matron of the Wisconsin State Industrial School for Boys, at Waukegan, is visiting her daughter Mrs. R. W. King.

—In a business letter of General Shields to Mr. J. S. Bliss, the General says he will certainly be here at the fair. This is additional testimony that there will be no disappointment.

—Last evening a horse belonging to S. B. Howard, of Rockford, became frightened by the fire engines and took a run of half a block, dragging a buggy after him. Little damage was done.

—Mrs. Eliza Curtis and her daughter Jane were brought before Justice Prichard this morning charged with poisoning a neighbor's chickens—a most foul crime. Adjournment was taken until next Saturday.

—General Lake receives another installment of Janesvillians to-day; Mr. J. A. Hoskins and wife, Miss Myra A. Bliss, Miss Annie O. Hoskins, Miss Mary Hoskins and others went across the country this morning for a few days' recreation.

—The suggestion made some time ago in these columns has been accepted, and the wooden sidewalk just west of Mitchell's block is being now raised to the same grade, and there will now be no jog for night rambles to stumble over.

—William Hagany, a 16-year-old boy living in the Second Ward, was up before Justice Prichard to-day charged with exposure of person, and having made an indecent assault on Mary Poe, a modest, pretty girl of 12 years. The case is being argued this afternoon.

—The big yield of winter wheat on Wigan's farm, notice of which was made in the Gazette last evening, has been bought by James Clark & Co., who are treating their customers to the best kind of winter wheat flour now at $1.50 per sack, or $3.00 per hundred, delivered to any part of the city.

—The ladies of Trinity Episcopal church are not satisfied with having done a noble work in fitting up the church, and have now turned their attention to the parsonage, in expectation of the arrival of Rev. Mr. McLean's family to-morrow. They have bought, made up, and put down a beautiful carpet.

—The Congregational folks have arranged for a lawn party at the residence of L. B. Cutting, on Division street, next Friday night. Prof. Bischoff will be present, and join in the musical programme as well as a male chorus, and little Maggie Jones will sing a solo. Ice cream and lemonade will be served.

—Spang and Son have rented the building formerly occupied by Heitman, the butcher, just west of Palmer's drug store. They have fitted it up as a restaurant and propose to furnish meals to day-boarders. They will keep on hand a supply of all kinds of edibles, to supply the inner man as well as confectionaries, cigars, &c.

—The tickets for the Milwaukee excursion of the Knights of Pythias and Bower City Band are for sale at Moseley's, and can be had for $1.50 each. Reserved seats can be secured for both coming and going, as there are diagrams of each car. This is a new and sensible move, as folks are tired of paying full fare for standing room.

—There was plenty of fun on the diamond field yesterday in the game between the Cigar Makers and Barbers. The tobacco men beat the little shavers by 40 to 30. The latter claimed a foul because the former lay down to stop the balls, but the umpire wouldn't allow it. All the players were allowed to wear umbrellas, and catch with their hats, which accounts for the scarcity of errors in the record.

—Mr. J. E. Addy has severed his connection with Moseley & Brother, and entered the employ of Julius Bauer & Co., of Chicago, among the largest importers and dealers in musical merchandise, pianos and organs, in the West. Mr. Addy has been in the employ of Moseley & Brother for eight years or more, and by strict attention to business has won the confidence and respect of all acquainted with him, and will doubtless succeed well in his new enterprise. He will enter upon his duties about the first of next month, and will travel through this State, Minnesota, and a portion of Illinois and Iowa.

—The picnic party consisting of E. B. Heimstreet and others, have returned from their camping out. Their trip was devoid of any startling incidents, except that two of the party got nicely doused. One was in a sail boat alone, and was gallantly showing the ladies how he could climb to the masthead. He shinned up the mast and the boat careened and he had a glorious chance to show how he could paddle about in deep water. Another one was shoving off a boat full of ladies and gents, and just as he was leaping aboard, the craft struck a rock, stopped suddenly, and he went tumbling over into the waters beyond, head first. The wet ones sought shady nooks, and kept away from the party while their clothes hung on the trees to dry.

—Beloit seems to be given to starting dailies. The Beloit Daily Herald now appears under the guidance of Charles S. Guernsey and David J. Welch. It was their intention to christen it the Daily Journal, and hand bills were circulated announcing the fact, when Horat, of the Free Press, protested, claiming that the Free Press was the legitimate successor of the old Journal, and entitled to the monopoly of that name. The present name was accordingly chosen.

The Herald is well spiced and newswy, and comes with a clean face and a happy smile. Among its items of news is a brief death notice of The Record, in which Mr. Cotes says that circumstances beyond his control compel for the present the suspension of that sheet.

THE GATHERING OF TEMPLARS.

The Temple of Honor delegates are to-day gathering from near and far. A large number arrived this afternoon, "and still there's more to follow." The Myers house is made headquarters, and the business for which they have been called hither will commence to-morrow morning, and the session will probably continue three days. Thursday there will be a grand parade, and it has been wisely suggested that the citizens generally acknowledge the honor thus bestowed on the city, by hanging their banners on the outer walls, and in other ways recognizing the parade. Let every one who has a flag give it to the breeze. The procession will march down Milwaukee street to Main street, thence south to Court street, thence to East street, thence to North Second street, back to Main street and thence to the park, where it will end. The Bower City Band and the Temperance Band will furnish the musical inspiration.

SUPREME COUNCIL.

REUBEN C. BULL, M. W. R.
CRYSTAL TEMPLE.

BURNING OF A BARN.

Last evening shortly after five o'clock the fire-bell, which has so long been silent, rang out a lively alarm, and in response the steamers, hose carts, and hook and ladder truck, were soon speeding south on Main street, making, with the carriages, wagons, and the yelling pedestrians, who also turned their steps thither, a lively scene for a short time. The blaze proved to be a burning barn near the end of the street. It was owned by Mr. Fredendall and occupied by Mr. J. B. Lagrange, as a storage place for some household goods. The barn also contained some hay, and some wood. It burned quickly and for a time the blaze threatened to communicate to the house of Mr. S. N. Smith which is near by. The fire department, however, prevented this, and the fire was soon squelched. There was no insurance on the property. Mr. Fredendall had a policy of $100 on the barn but it had expired, and Mr. Lagrange had no insurance except on household goods in his residence. The fire is supposed to have originated by some little children playing with matches in the barn.

A BAD RUNAWAY.

Mr. Clark Popple, who lives in the town of Center, met with a severe accident yesterday. He was just starting out with a load of wheat when his boy got off the wagon onto the tongue, and was adjusting some part of the harness, when the team started on the run. Mr. Popple was standing just in front of the horses in the field, and grabbed them by the bit. He fell, and the horses and wagon passed over him. When picked up he had a bad wound on the head, a large piece of the scalp being laid back. He also had one rib fractured and some bruises. It is thought that he suffered no serious internal injuries, and it is hoped that he will speedily recover.

The Stars yesterday scored 2 and the Springfield 1.

At Buffalo yesterday the Buffalos scored 11 and the Hornells 1.

FOREPAUGH'S GREAT SHOW.

As will be seen by a glance at our advertising columns, this great show will appear in this city next Thursday. The Anahiem Gazette of April 24 says:

Forepaugh's Great Show made its appearance in town this morning, and was the occasion of crowded streets. At an early hour vehicles of all styles and kinds came pouring into town from the adjacent country, loaded with young and old, all bent on seeing this eighth wonder of the world. It is needless to say that they were very repaid for their trouble, the procession alone being well worth a long journey to see. The caravan was, without exception, the finest that ever paraded our streets, and was a complete exhibition in itself. The Globe Chariot, a large two-story vehicle of solid carving, entirely coated with gold and surmounted with a large globe, over which presided the Goddess of Liberty, was a wonder of art and ingenuity, and must have cost its enterprising owner a little fortune of itself.

Forepaugh's show has been liberally advertised, but not in so exaggerated a manner as have most circuses which have preceded it, but unlike them it has kept its promises to the public, and presented all the features which it claimed. While not promising so much, it has really presented more, and in short the best circus that has ever exhibited here.

BELOIT'S BLAZE.

Further Particulars Concerning the Burning of the Rock River Paper Company's Mill.

The burning of the paper mill, a brief account of which was given in last evening's Gazette, will cause no loss to the company as the insurance was ample enough to cover it. The following is a list of the policies:

|                               |                 |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|
| Fire Association Philadelphia | $2,000         |
| Racer's Warehouse, Newark     | 2,000           |
| People's Fire Ins.            | 2,000           |
| Melville Mutual               | 2,000           |
| Merchant's, Newark            | 2,000           |
| La Case, (France)             | 2,000           |
| London, Liverpool & Globe     | 2,000           |
| Madison, Wis.                 | 2,000           |
| Scottish Commercial           | 2,000           |
| Imperial & Northern           | 4,000           |
| Total                  | $22,000 |

The fire is supposed to have originated in the roof near the smoke stack, and the blaze spread so rapidly that it enveloped the whole building before the Fire Department could reach the spot. In spite of all exertions the building was nearly destroyed, the roof of the two-story store part being completely destroyed, and the two-story wing which was of wood, being burned to the ground. The Beloit Straw Board Mill which was situated but a few feet east of the burning building had a narrow escape, as the wind was blowing in that direction. It was slightly burned as it was, but was saved by the streams from the fire department aided by two streams from the pump in the mill. It suffered some damage, but mostly from water. The damage to the Rock River Company's paper mill is estimated all the way from $11,000 to $15,000, though some make it higher than that even. The hands will be temporarily out of employment, but as soon as possible the mill will be rebuilt.

MAKE READY FOR FALL.

J. L. Ford, in another column, calls attention to the fact that he has just placed on his counters a large assortment of fall goods. Those who want to be clothed well, should remember him and call there. He is always glad to have any one and every one inspect his goods, and inquire his prices. Mr. Ford has been for years here, and all know concerning his reliability and his practicability. He gives his personal attention to every detail of his business and carefully inspects every garment sent forth from his establishment. By his enterprise he has worked up a growing trade, and his customers stick to him closer than a brother. Drop in and see his new goods for yourself.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 69 degrees above zero, and at 2 o'clock at 84 degrees above. Cloudy. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 65 and 72 degrees above.

GREAT LONDON SHOW.

This immense circus will be here August 28. The New York Daily News of March 28, says:

But what would the great show be without a rider like Gorman, or a juggling equestrian artist like Pauline Lee, or, above all, without equestrian wonder-workers like Madame Dockrill and James Robinson? No one could imagine such proficiency as these artists have attained. Madame Dockrill performs miracles that perhaps some day in the inconceivable future of an unmanageable arena, spectators may regard as we now regard Madame Dockrill, who stretches herself across four horses and recovers, by muscular elasticity her normal pose, amid the astounding exclamations of incredulous crowds. And there is James Robinson, whose home is now on his back, and whose greatest ambition is to excel all the world in demonstrating the performance of impossibilities on all parts of the available equine exterior. These, however, are not one-half of the wonders performed here. It is the most remarkable and perfect show of its kind of the period.

THANKS.

I hereby return thanks to the fire department, and my neighbors, for the exertions set forth by them in protecting my premises, on the occasion of the fire on Main street, yesterday afternoon.

S. N. SMITH.
Dated August 13th, 1878.
